Workforce & Economic Development Monitoring Report

Lower Columbia College's Key Performance Indicators were initially established in 1999. The framework is reviewed and updated annually (as needed) in order to align with the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities standards and eligibility requirements, as well as local, state and national initiatives.

Key Performance Indicators for Workforce & Economic Development include:

- Student performance
- Demonstration of program competencies
- Licensure/exam rates
- Placement rate in the workforce
- Employer satisfaction
- College level English and math completion
- Demonstration of General Education Outcomes
- Client assessment of programs and services

Enrollment data is also included in the report.

Some of the actions that have come about as a result of reviewing data in this report include:

- A new Associate of Applied Science (AAS) in Education degree was developed to prepare graduates for careers as paraeducators, and the Certificate of Proficiency (COP) for paraeducators was revamped. Both align with K-12/state paraeducator standards and serve as a pathway to the Bachelor of Applied Science (BAS) in Teacher Education degree.
- LCC's Professional-Technical faculty continued to participate in the development and design of the new Center for Vocational and Transitional Studies, as well as fundraising for state-of-the-art equipment. Machine Trades and Welding, in partnership with the LCC Foundation, secured $50,000 via a special community grant to purchase new welding machines and a desktop mill that can be used by both college and K-12 Community and Technical Education (CTE) program students. The new equipment benefits students now, and will eventually be moved to the new facility.
- Commercial Driver's License (CDL) training was expanded this year via a special grant, which supports students by offering additional cohorts, supporting financial aid to cover the cost of tuition/fees, training additional instructors, and purchasing a new trailer and vital maintenance equipment.
- The new 'Industrial Trades Foundations,' K-12 Career and Technical Education course, was launched this year. This high school class was offered in partnership with Kelso High Schools Skill Center programs and hosted students from a variety of local districts throughout Cowlitz and Wahkiakum counties.
- LCC successfully launched the second (part-time) cohort in BAS in Organizational Leadership and Technical Management, that included the pilot for an updated instructional model designed to better meet the needs of working professionals. Each course is offered over five weeks via hybrid modality, meeting one night per week, which allows students to focus on one course at a time.

PART 1: Workforce

Key Performance Indicator: Student Performance
(Mission Fulfillment = 80% for all categories)
(Stretch Goal = 85% for all categories)

Key Performance Indicator: Demonstration of Program Competencies
(GOALS SET BY INDIVIDUAL PROGRAMS)

Attainment of Competencies for Individual Programs

As part of the college's established Curriculum & Program Review process, all programs are required to collect and analyze data for the purpose of improving student learning outcomes. Each program review plan is unique, and addresses competencies relevant for the specific discipline. Some plans, such as Nursing and Medical Assisting, are related to external accreditation and/or industry standards. Faculty perform quarterly activities for Curriculum & Program Review according to a schedule set by the Instructional Assessment Committee. A full Curriculum & Program Review cycle lasts two years, at which point the cycle starts again.

Key Performance Indicator: Licensure/Exam Rates

Nursing graduates must be licensed in order to work in the field. Nursing completers must pass the NCLEX – a national, standardized nursing test. Similarly, welding completers must pass the WABO test to earn their degree. Medical Assisting completers must pass the Medical Assisting Education Review Board exam.

Table 2a: Licensure Rates for Nursing, Welding, and Medical Assisting
(Mission Fulfillment NCLEX = exceed state benchmark of 80%; WABO = 80%; MAERB = 60%)
(Stretch Goal NCLEX = 90%; WABO = 100%; MAERB = 70%)

- NCLEX and WABO rates are by calendar year.
- MAERB rates are by admission year.
- The number of welding students taking the WABO fluctuates for several reasons, including the fact that students decide when they want to test (whether or not their instructor thinks they are ready). Some people who are only able to be in the program for a short time opt to test sooner than others, sometimes before they're ready. Also, some student testers are only enrolled for a short refresher course (rather than a degree or certificate program) but appear in the student data nevertheless. Hiring trends can also affect students' decisions to test earlier rather than later in their program.

- The NES pass rates are reported by academic year.

Key Performance Indicator: Placement Rate in the Workplace
(Mission Fulfillment = no more than 2% below system average for all categories)
(Stretch Goal = exceed system average for all categories)

The State Board for Community and Technical Colleges coordinates annually with Employment Security to match records of employed students to determine employment placement rates. Students who continue their education in the Washington system are excluded from totals.

Professional/Technical Enrollment

The professional/technical enrollment summary presents the annualized FTE (Full Time Equivalent) of all state-funded professional/technical enrollments by Institutional Intent. Enrollment of Worker Retraining students has a major impact on Professional/Technical programs.

Note: tables 8a & 8b measure students who take AND complete college level math in their first year of attendance. Although course success plays a role in this indicator, it is not a reflection of how students do in college level math overall. Overall success rates (C or better) in college level math for workforce students in 2021-22 are as follows:

- Overall rate: 73%
- Female: 73%
- Male: 73%
- Receiving need-based aid: 73%
- Traditional age: 71%
- Nontraditional age: 74%
- Asian: 80%
- Hispanic or Latino: 58%
- Two or More Races or Other Race: 65%
- White: 76%

Source: Corporate & Continuing Education Office. *In 2018-19, students were counted toward this metric if they answered “Yes” to “Overall, were you satisfied with the course?” **In 2019-20, students were counted toward this metric if they answered “Yes” to “Overall, were you satisfied with the course?” or answered “Excellent” or “Good” to “Please indicate the rating that best reflects your overall evaluation of this session.”

- Although the pandemic seriously impacted the number of respondents in 2020-21, satisfaction was high among those who completed an evaluation.
- Evaluations were not given in 2021-22 due to staffing transition.

- Numbers are lower for 2019-20 due to disruptions in testing caused by relocating the testing center, which also required recertification with Pearson and Castle, as well as Covid-19 interrupting testing beginning in March 2020.
- Numbers for almost all tests increased in 2021-22 compared to the previous year.

1) Based on the data in this report, what are LCC's strengths in providing workforce preparation and economic development?

- We're doing very well in terms of employer satisfaction with the professionalism of LCC graduates. At 100%, we met our stretch goal last year.
- Students are performing well in professional/technical classes. At over 92%, females are doing particularly well.
- Although we don't have data from last year due to staffing transitions, customer satisfaction with Corporate and Continuing Education is high.
- The overall proportion of students taking college level math in their first year increased from the previous year.
- The employment rate went up from the previous two years, and is substantially higher than the system average.
- We met our stretch goal for Global Skills attainment last year.
- Licensure rates are high.

2) Based on the data in this report, what are LCC's weaknesses in providing workforce preparation and economic development?

- Enrollment continued to decline overall in 2021-22, and most (but not all) disciplines were trending down last year. There have been some positive gains in 2022-23 that will be captured in next year's monitoring report.
- Males are completing college level math and English at notably lower rates than females, although the gap is more pronounced for English. The overall rate is also lower for English than it was in the previous year.
- Overall completion rates for college level math and English are fairly low. It's unfortunate that certain populations are too small to be included in the report.
- The rate of students obtaining a 'C' or better in classes is lower for Students of Color than overall. This is also true for employment rates.

3) Based on the data in this report, what are LCC's opportunities for providing workforce preparation and economic development?

- High levels of employer satisfaction with the professionalism of LCC graduates can help us promote our programs.
- Alignment with K-12, and bringing back events and activities should support enrollment growth.
- Strong employer satisfaction reflects our positive standing in the community, which could support development of more cooperative opportunities with businesses.

- Updated Chemical Dependency Studies pathways will support more students transitioning into our Bachelor of Applied Science-Organizational Leadership and Technical Management (BAS-OLTM) program.
- Continued development of workforce preparation programs, including more BAS degrees, will support enrollment.

4) Based on the data in this report, what are LCC's threats for providing workforce preparation and economic development?

- Enrollment is a threat for the entire college, not just for professional/technical programs.
- Downward enrollment trends in Information Technology/Computer Science are putting the future of the program in jeopardy.
- The fact that some employers are investing heavily in apprenticeship pathways right now is a threat, since it's resulting in people bypassing higher education.
- Related to enrollment, funding is an ongoing threat. Lower enrollments can lead to less funding, which we need to continue to develop and grow our programs.
